the UK's leading
residential auctioneers
in 2008

50% more lots offered
£344m worth of lots sold
Success rate maintained

2008 was without a doubt a challenging year for the property industry. Whilst many agents and auctioneers have struggled to find solutions for both buyers and sellers, Sequence Auctions has continued to achieve sales when others have floundered. As part of one of the UK's leading Estate Agency groups, we have been able to react quickly, provide innovative solutions, invest in new marketing products and find buyers.

This is proven in our 2008 results. In 2008 Sequence Auctions were the largest volume residential auctioneers in the UK. We offered 3,696 lots, some 23% more than our nearest competitor.

Every month, the Essential Information Group provides independent and authoritative data for auction sales. For the residential auction market their data compared to 2007 shows:

Total number of lots offered by all other auctioneers fell by 2.25% to 27,412. Sequence increased lots offered by 50% to 3,696.

Total number of lots sold by all other auctioneers fell by 13.7% to 17,088. Sequence increased lots sold by 47% to 2,640.

Average success rate of all other auctioneers fell to 62%. Sequence's success rate was 72%.

Total capital value of lots sold by all other auctioneers fell by 33% to £2.26 billion. Sequence increased capital value of sales by 10% to £344.1 million.
